

3 ways that outsourcing Finance & Accounting reduces complexity

Outsourcing Finance & Accounting activities frees you from routine administrative tasks, improves accuracy, and boosts process efficiency — all while reducing complexity.

1

Leverage automation to reduce costs and simplify processes and technology

Top-performing companies know that outsourcing means:

Less money spent maintaining an internal team and Keeping up with the latest technology and software.

Bottom-performing companies spend almost

3X the amount that top performers spend on the same processes within the finance function.¹

Most of this cost is spent on personnel. On average, over 1/2 the cost of the finance function can be attributed to personnel expenses.²

Top performers don't have to spend as much on finance because they have:

- Optimized processes, requiring less FTEs.
- They utilize high levels of AP automation to reap these benefits:

54%

cost savings on invoice processing³

1/3 as many internal employees as their peers⁴

According to The Hackett Group, one characteristic of an AP top performer is that "Automation and outsourcing replace routine roles; internal FTEs are focused on high-value analysis and customer-facing activities."⁵

2

Free up your resources for value-add tasks

In finance teams, 38-40% of time is allocated to transaction processing.⁶

This includes tasks like:

- General accounting
- AP and AR processing
- Generating financial statements.

When these activities are outsourced, internal teams can shift to strategic work:

- Risk management
- Cost analysis
- Complex problem resolution
- Other decision-support activities.

3

Benefit from skilled resources & automation

Dedicated F&A resources

with

Specialized expertise

and

Access to better technology

means

Quicker, more accurate work.

95%

of companies suffer because of:

- Poor data quality
- Experiencing wasted resources
- Additional expenses as a result.⁷

BUT

with outsourced F&A, you can count on:

- Greater data accuracy
- Automation that reduces human error
- Insights and analysis you can trust
